Social Security: Accessing Benefits After an ALS Diagnosis
Disability Overview

Social Security provides disability protections through two programs:

• Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI)
• Supplemental Security Income (SSI)
The Social Security Act defines disability as:

a person who cannot work due to a severe medical condition that has lasted, or is expected to last, at least one year or result in death; or the person's medical condition must prevent him or her from doing substantial gainful employment – work that he or she did in the past, and it must prevent the person from adjusting to other work.

Requirements for Getting Disability Benefits

To be eligible for disability benefits, you must meet two different earnings tests:

- a recent work test, and
- a duration of work test.

Note: Certain blind workers have to meet only the duration of work test.
How Do You Earn Work Credits?

- You earn “credits” when you work and pay Social Security taxes.
- In 2021, each $1,470 in earnings gives you one credit.

When should I apply for disability benefits?

- Apply as soon as you become disabled.
- Processing an application for disability benefits can take three to five months.
- We have two fast-track processes that allow us to approve some cases in a matter of days instead of months.
- We may be able to process your application faster if you help us by getting any other information we need.

SSDI: What Happens Next?

- Your application will be reviewed to make sure you meet some basic requirements for disability benefits.

- We’ll check whether you worked enough years to qualify and evaluate any current work activities.

- If you meet these requirements, we’ll forward your case to the Disability Determination Services office in your state.
How is a Disability Determination Made?

Five-step process:
1. Are you working?
2. Is your medical condition “severe”?
3. Does your impairment(s) meet or medically equal a listing?
4. Can you do the work you did before?
5. Can you do any other type of work?
We’ll tell you our decision…

• When the state agency makes a determination on your case, we’ll send a letter to you.

• If approved, the letter will show the amount of your benefit, when your payments start, and your reporting responsibilities.

• If not approved, the letter will explain why and tell you how to appeal the determination if you don’t agree with it.

Requirements for Getting SSI

To be eligible for SSI, you must:

• have limited income and few resources;
• be age 65 or older;
• be totally or partially blind; or
• have a medical condition that keeps you from working and is expected to last at least one year or result in death.

Note: There are different rules for children.
Requirements for Getting SSI

• Your income – money you receive such as wages, Social Security benefits, and pensions. Income also includes such things as food and shelter.

• Your resources – things you own such as real estate, bank accounts, cash, stocks, and bonds.

Representative Payee

- Social Security’s Representative Payment Program appoints a relative, friend, or other interested party to serve as the ‘representative payee’ who receives and manages the Social Security or SSI benefits for anyone who cannot manage or direct the management of his or her benefits themselves.

- We thoroughly investigate those who apply to be representative payees to protect the interests of Social Security beneficiaries, because a representative payee receives the beneficiary’s payments and is given the authority to use them on the beneficiary’s behalf.

- Our Representative Payee Portal, accessible with a my Social Security account, lets individual representative payees conduct their own business or manage direct deposit, wage reporting, and annual reporting for their beneficiaries.
Advance Designation of Representative Payees

What is it?
• Effective March 2020, Advance Designation of Representative Payees allows you to designate in advance up to three individuals who could serve as a representative payee for you, should the need arise.

Who is it for?
• Adult and emancipated minor applicants and beneficiaries of Social Security or Supplemental Security Income, who do not have a representative payee
Scam Awareness - Tips to Protect Yourself

1. Remain Vigilant.
2. If you receive a call or a communication that you believe to be suspicious: HANG UP or do not respond!
3. DO NOT provide the caller with money — cash, gift card, wire transfers, or pre-paid debit cards — or personal information.
4. REPORT IT at oig.ssa.gov.
5. SHARE this information with others, to help spread awareness.

We want to assure our beneficiaries that Social Security is NOT suspending any payments because of COVID-19.
Thank You!
